Augusta Technical College Announces New Program Offerings for 2022 Fall Semester

Augusta, GA - August 4, 2022

Augusta Technical College is pleased to announce our new program offerings for Fall 2022.

The School of Business provides a broad-based, student-centered education for students seeking to develop a solid foundation in core business knowledge. Students are able to specialize in areas of interest including Accounting, Business Technology, Business Administration, Business Management, and Marketing Management.

The School of Aviation, Industrial and Engineering Technology focuses on new and innovative technology to provide students with hands-on training and competencies needed in today's workplace — such as critical thinking, problem solving, collaboration, teamwork, and communication.

The School of Health Sciences is home to a wide range of health-related degrees and certificates that can prepare students for a rewarding career in the healthcare industry. Students benefit from hands-on learning using state-of-the-art equipment and through clinical rotations with our many partners throughout the region.
